Ambassadors strategy

1 Clear difference when selecting ambassadors for 3-wheel and 4-wheel

- 3-wheel: sporty, chic parent
- 4-wheel: fashionable, city parent

2 Important to cover ambassadors both with bassinet and with toddler seat

Ideal ambassador start with bassinet

3 Open to sign new ambassadors for product launch

Goal: Mix between 3-wheel and 4-wheel stroller

Follow set guidelines of selecting ambassadors (no quick wins, no influencer-set up)

4 Categorize ambassadors within following categories

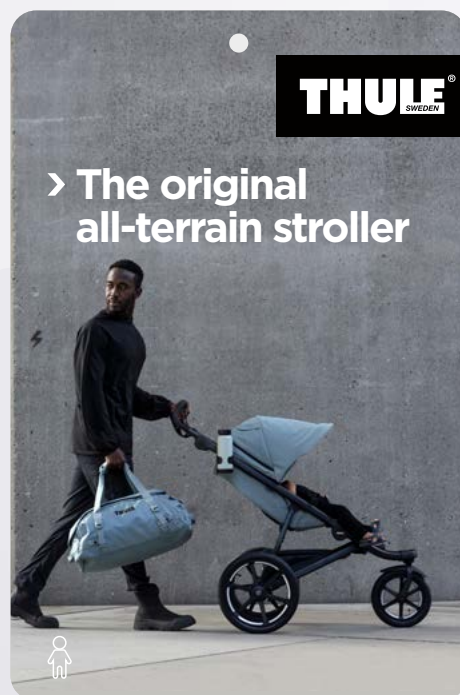

- Outdoor/sporty:
3-wheel focus (sporty)
- Fashion & design:
3-wheel (sporty)
4-wheel (not sporty)
- City chic:
4-wheel (not sporty)

Press Release

Thule launches updates and four-wheel version of Thule Urban Glide all-terrain stroller

At Kind+Jugend, Thule will launch the Thule Urban Glide 3, a new version of the iconic all-terrain stroller that has been the go-to choice for active parents and design enthusiasts for many years. With numerous updated features and a brand-new four-wheel variant, this classic stroller rolls into the future. "Our goal is always to improve. Even though we cherish our original design, we strive to make the best even better," says Sara Berggren, Product Manager at Thule. "The new features take the original all-terrain stroller to the next level. And it feels great to add a four-wheel version – we know it's on many parents' wish lists."

New features make the stroller even more comfortable

Thule Urban Glide 3 is designed for active parents and offers a combination of comfort, functionality, and performance on any surface. It comes with several upgrades that make the stroller even more comfortable for both parents and children. Some of the new features are:

- A built-in leg rest which together with the updated stepless reclining seat offer great comfort for also the little one needing a nap on the go
- Large, extendable canopy – designed to shelter from sun and rain, and with great ventilation

Three versions to choose from

There are three versions to choose from and they are all great to use from with the the new beautifully updated Thule Bassinet launching at the same time. in matching colors.

Thule Urban Glide 3: The original, iconic, all-terrain stroller, with new features

Thule Urban Glide 4-wheel: An all-new city-friendly model with great maneuverability

Thule Urban Glide 3 double: A side-by-side stroller that doesn't compromise on space and comfortably fits through doorways.

The strollers will be launched to consumers in the first quarter of 2024
